The great point, however, would be to have a Committee on Printing Mr. LUCIEN M. HARLOW, to Miss SERENA each session, to whom all subjects should go, and who should decide what ought and what ought not to be printed. This would save more than any other way, as there is a great deal of extre printing done, which is atterly u-eless and unnecessary. The difficulty originally, it is presumed, grew out of the fact hat Mr. Ritchie was more friendly to Mr. Wise than to Mr. Hanter; and there was, perhaps, a disposition to punish him for it. There are two wings of the Democracy, the old Line Regulars, and the Chivalry.

The Legislature have now 22 days left of the session to do business in, provided they adjourn on the 7th of March, out of which are to come four Sundays, and two days will be lost, 22d and 23rd inst., leaving sixteen working days; while they have all the important business of the session yet unacted on. They cannot possibly get away before 1st of April, if then. Not a solitary bill of any important character has yet been acted on, and there are 5 or 600 on the calendar
